

Headache

Is one of the common symptoms of womanly trouble, and the cause has to be removed before you can rid yourself of it entirely. A medicine that merely kills pain, does not go to the seat of the trouble, and kill the cause. What you need is a woman's medicine—one which acts directly, yet gently, on the womanly organs.

TAKE

Cardui

The Woman's Tonic

After having used Cardui, Miss Lillie Gibson, of Christman, Texas, writes: "About three years ago, I was just entering womanhood, and was sick in bed for nearly nine months. Sometimes I would have such headaches, and other aches, I could hardly stand it. I tried Cardui, and now I am cured of all my troubles. I shall praise Cardui as long as I live." Cardui is the medicine you need. Try it. E-69

Appalachia Items

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Peters and children returned Friday night from a visit of several days to Knoxville, Tenn.

R. R. Parker attended the funeral services of Judge Duncan at Jonesville Friday.

J. S. McConnell attended the Fair at Gate City on Wednesday.

Mrs. T. J. Templeton, E. C. Mainous and W. L. Mainous attended the Fair at Gate City, and are now visiting relatives in Scott County.

On Sunday, Mrs. E. L. Cifer entertained at dinner, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Holley, Miss Mary Leftwich and Mrs. B. S. Grim.

WALTERS SEES END OF SOUTH'S TRIALS.

Atlantic Coast Line's Chairman Thinks Improvement Has Begun.

Henry Walters, chairman of the Atlantic Coast Line, and owner of the Louisville & Nashville, who had never before been known to talk or write for publication, had the following to say in a statement to the Wall Street Journal:

"The South, after a year of the strictest economy, has, in my opinion, seen the worst of its trials and a reasonable steady improvement has begun."

"In the last thirty days the Birmingham district shows a marked improvement, due possibly to the shortage elsewhere of pig iron, and the lumber industry is at last showing increased orders and better prices."

"The satisfactory manner in which cotton prices are holding in the face of the loss of sales to Germany and Austria is giving confidence to all Southern merchants and giving good profits to the producers, where last year the latter made only losses. "Present crop is the cheapest raised since 1895, when the cost of production did not average over six cents.

"I do not see how the cotton crop now picking can exceed 12,000,000 bales, in view of the great decrease in acreage, as reported by the government, and the use of only one half the usual amount of fertilizers."

"I understand many of the Northern mills realize this and are buying freely at present prices."

"Too much stress cannot be laid upon the benefit to the 'Cotton South' from the experience of last year."

"Permanent warehouses already constructed or which are now nearing completion in the South will care for more than 5,000,000 bales under perfect conditions and at insurance rates of about one-quarter of one per cent."—New York Sun.

Mrs. Beam Tells of Her One Fear.

Appetite So Ravenous She Is Afraid Board Bill Will Be Raised.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 5.—Mrs. Leon S. Beam, wife of a well-known traveling salesman, who resides with her mother in Bardonia, came to Louisville recently for the sole purpose of expressing her gratitude for the remarkable accomplishments of the new medicine, Tanlac. She said:

"I have been frightfully nervous and so rundown, I was short of breath, and slight noises which did not formerly disturb me, upsets my nerves dreadfully. I had any energy. I really didn't realize it. Took little interest in anything, and when those distressing headaches came upon me I was almost frantic. My digestion was bad and I had no appetite."

"Three or four doses of Tanlac made me feel decidedly better. I have used a whole bottle of Tanlac, and am improved in every way. My digestion is better, my nerves are in an excellent condition, and I have more color and feel stronger than I have for two or three years. Really, I have the most ravenous appetite, and my only fear is that my mother will be forced to increase my board bill."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, that brought such quick relief to Mrs. Beam and thousands of others, can be obtained in Big Stone Gap at the Mutual Drug Company, and in Norton, at the Norton Drug Company.

Physicians assert that people ought to go barefoot, but they refuse to set the example.

INSPIRATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford.

When you enter the agricultural department of the county fair, you feel your soul uplifted and your life takes on a new power—that is the inspiration of the soil. You are overpowered by the grandeur and magnificence of the scene—that is the spirit of the harvest. You can hear the voice of nature calling you back to the soil—that is opportunity knocking at your door. It is a good chance to spend a quiet hour in contact with the purity and perfection of nature and to sweeten your life with its fragrance, elevate your ideals with its beauty and expand your imagination with its power.

These products as food are fit for the gods, and as an article of commerce they ought to bring tip-top prices on any market in the world. The products of the soil are teachers and preachers as well. Their beauty gives human life its first excitement, their perfection affords the genius in artists, their purity furnishes models for growth of character and their marvelous achievements excite our curiosity and we inquire into the wonderful process of nature.

Before leaving the parlor of agriculture where nature is parading in her most graceful attire and science is climbing the dizzy heights of perfection, let us pause and take a retrospective view. How many of you know that after these wonderful products are raised, they can seldom be marketed at a profit? Take the blushing blushing cotton, for example—they were fed to the hogs by the carload last year. The onion—the nation's favorite vegetable—every year, more by the acre in the Southwest for want of a market and as a result hundreds of farmers have lost their homes. Cotton—nature's capitalist—often goes begging on the market at less than cost of production.

It is great to wander through the exhibits while the band is playing "Dixie" and to see the marvelous fertility of the soil and pride ourselves on our ability to master science, but it is also well to remember that there is a market side to agriculture that does not reflect its hardships in the exhibits at a county fair.

UNIVERSAL PEACE

This nation is now in the midst of a controversy as to how best to promote universal peace. That question we will leave for diplomats to discuss, but peace within nations is no less important than peace between nations and it is heavily laden with property for every citizen within our commonwealth.

Many leading politicians and oftentimes political platforms have declared war upon business and no cabinet crisis ever resulted. Many men have stood in high places and hurled "gas bombs" at industry, thrust bayonets into business enterprises and bombarded agriculture with indifference. Party leaders have many times broken diplomatic relations with industry; sent political aviators spying through the affairs of business and political submarines have sent torpedoes crashing into the destiny of commerce. During the past quarter of a century we have fought many a duel with progress, permitted many politicians to carry on a guerrilla warfare against civilization and point a pistol at the heart of honest enterprise.

No man should be permitted to cry out for universal peace until his record has been searched for explosives, for no vessel armed or laden with munitions of war should be given a clearance to sail for the port of Universal Peace. Let us by all means have peace, but peace, like charity, should begin at home.

GRASPING AT THE SHADOW

No man—especially if he is married—would deny woman any right she demands. Take the earth and give us peace, but why does woman long for the ballot?

When all is said and done, is not the selection of the butcher more important to the home than the election of a mayor; is not the employment of the dairyman a far more important event in the life of the children than the appointment of a postmaster; is not the selection of books for the family library more important than voting bonds for jail and court house? Why does woman lay aside the important things in life? Why leave the substance and grasp at the shadow?

He it said to the credit of womanhood that it is not, as a rule, the woman who rocks the cradle that wants to cast the ballot; it is not the mother who teaches her children to say "Now I lay me down to sleep" that harangues the populace; it is not the daughter who hopes to reign as queen over a happy home that longs for the uniform of the suffragette. It is, as a rule, the woman who despises her home, neglects her children and scorns motherhood that leads parades and smashes windows.
